Acclaimed by audiences and critics as one of the foremost jazz and ragtime pianists in the world, Frederick Hodges is highly sought after by orchestras, festivals, conductors and collaborative musicians. His discerning artistry, extraordinary virtuosity and personal charisma have brought him to the world's most renowned stages, leaving audiences around the globe captivated. Classically trained as a concert pianist, Mr. Hodges has established a reputation as a truly versatile musician, equally adept as soloist, singer and recording artist. In addition to his busy career as a concert soloist, he appears frequently as a guest soloist with the California Pops Orchestra and Don Neely's Royal Society Jazz Orchestra. His extensive repertoire ranges from Rachmaninoff to Gershwin. He has appeared on national television, radio and several Hollywood films. He is also much sought after as a silent film accompanist. He regularly accompanies films at the Niles Essanay Silent Film Museum, at the Cinecon Film Festival in Hollywood, and at the Turner Classical Movie Film Festival. Mr. Hodges is engaged regularly as a headliner artist at many of the most prestigious music festivals in America. He received his bachelor degree from the University of California at Berkeley and both his Masters and Doctorate in the field of Modern History at Oxford University in the United Kingdom.
